Getting started with Nook® eReader

You can borrow eBooks from your library and transfer them to your Nook eReader using free Adobe® Digital Editions (ADE) software on your Windows® or Mac® computer.

Step 1

Connect your Nook to your computer.

Step 2

Install Adobe Digital Editions (ADE) on your computer.

Download it from:

www.adobe.com/products/digital-editions.html

Step 3

On your computer, use your Internet browser to go to your library's OverDrive-powered website at: pls.lib.overdrive.com

Log into your library's OverDrive-powered website with your library card and borrow a title that is in Adobe EPUB or Adobe PDF format. Borrowed eBooks appear on your Bookshelf on your library's website.

Step 4

From your Bookshelf, use the Download drop-down menu to select EPUB or PDF format, then select Confirm & Download.

If prompted, authorize your computer with a free Adobe ID (this is required for transferring protected eBooks). If you do not have an Adobe ID, you will see a link to create one.

Step 5

Downloaded eBooks should open in ADE. To transfer an eBook to your Nook, make sure you are in ADE's "Library View" (you may need to click the Library button in the upper-left corner to get there). From there, drag and drop the eBook into your Nook, which should appear on the left under "Devices."

Once you have transferred a library eBook, you may read it on your device just like any other eBook.

Note: During the transfer process, your eBook reader will be automatically authorized with the same Adobe ID used on your computer.
